Information provided by ING Belgium through its credit simulator or as a result of the simulation is given for information purposes only.

The information provided by ING Belgium's credit simulator is only valid at the date when given. This simulation does not take account of any subsequent changes in legislation or regulations in effect at the time of the simulation.

In addition, the data on which the simulation is based may change between the time the simulation is carried out and the date of formalising the credit agreement.

Designed for the entire customer base, the information provided by the ING Belgium credit simulator or as a result of the simulation does not take into account the specific personal situation of the web user. Drawn up on the basis of data provided by ING and objective assumptions by ING – as well as on data consulted via the Central Credit Office for Credit to Individuals of the National Bank of Belgium – they may only constitute simple estimates and background information for this.

The information provided by the ING Belgium credit simulator does not dispense the user of the simulator in any way from consulting our specialised advisors, particularly in order to take his or her particular personal situation into account. It may never be considered as an offer or a direct and personal invitation to take out an ING Belgium credit.

It is no way binding on either ING Belgium or yourself. Users must always assess these in light of their personal situation and if necessary make a personal application to ING Belgium. This application is subject to acceptance of their file by ING Belgium. Users are of course free to accept or reject the personalised offer that may be made to them by ING Belgium.

Users remain fully and solely responsible for any use they freely make of this information and for the results of their decisions, except in the event of gross misconduct or intentional wrongdoing on the part of ING and without prejudice to the applicable laws.

ING Belgium's branches are at your entire disposal to provide you with any further information and, if need be, a personalised offer at your request, though subject to acceptance of your file by ING Belgium.
